Pioneer Line of Steamers

FOR

Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and Boston, via Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal.

THE COMMODIOUS STEAMERS PIONEER and Commodore Adams, will leave Newberne for Norfolk on TUESDAY of each week at 8 o'clock A M, connecting with the different lines of steamers for the above-named points. On and after the first day of December next they will leave on Tuesday and Friday of each week, making semi-weekly trips. Shippers of Goods will receive every facility and accommodation for the transportation of the same, as arrangements have been made with the different companies to forward goods to this line at low rates and without delay. Each of these steamers are capable of carrying through the canal without difficulty, as they were built expressly for the trade. They are fitted up with STATE ROOMS and BERTHS capable of accommodating thirty-five passengers. Every attention will be paid to the comfort of passengers, who will not be subject to the inconvenience of transfer to other vessels, but will be taken through direct without change.

The tables of the steamers are liberally supplied with the best the market affords. Families traveling will find it to their interest to take this line, as they will thereby escape the danger and discomfort of a sea route, and the fatigue of railroad travel.

On the 15th of December next, if the business of the line warrants it, the steamer Williams will be put on the route, and tri-weekly trips will be made.

For freight or passage apply to Whitford, Dill & Co., Newbern, N C.

Our terms are invariably in advance. The scarcity of money however, obliges us to say to our friends, that responsible and prompt persons who desire the Sentinel need not delay sending us their names at once, who can send us the Cash in a short time. The money may be sent us by the Rail Road Conductors or the Express Company.

THE PEOPLE must be trusted with their Government, and if trusted, my opinion is that they will act in good faith, and restore their former constitutional relations with all the States composing the Union.—Andrew Johnson's Letter to Gov. Sharkey, of Mississippi.

"The Union one and Inseparable."

In former days this touching sentiment of the immortal Webster, possessed a sort of talismanic power. Its utterances thrilled the soul of the patriot, and was responded to by every American heart. Shall it be so again? Is it within the power of man so to hush the discordancies of the political orchestra, so to guide the turbulent, selfish, factious, partizan spirit of the country, as to make the Union once more, one? From our inmost soul, we for one desire it. One, in the hopes, the aims, the interests and the future, of our whole people.

The history of the past and the indices of the present make us dubious, but these make it the more desirable and the more necessary. Could we blot out from the knowledge and memory of man the history of this country for the last forty years, how gladly would we do it. Could we carry the nation back to the purer days of the Republic to begin its work anew, how gladly and how speedily it would be done. But what is writ, is writ, and nothing can efface it, but our duty is to profit by our experience and to learn better than we have done, from what we have suffered and endured. Shall we learn? Are we in the mood to learn? We fear not.

The country needs quiet. The South must have it at any cost, short of dishonor and utter degradation. Otherwise her recuperation is put beyond possibility for years. Her prosperity in the future is jeoparded by every month's delay. North Carolina especially desires quiet and restoration. Her people are suffering in their material interests vastly, by the incertitude and doubt which rests upon her future. Her agricultural, commercial, mechanical and educational energies are almost dormant—at least, they are so trammelled by her political status and by the deferred hopes of her people as almost to be profitless. How can this be prevented? What can our people do more than they have done?

The chief difficulty lies in the want of confidence between North and South, and the want of confidence among ourselves. What the President has demanded of North Carolina she has done. Her people sanction what has been done. They have acted in good faith to the government, and they look to it for the fulfillment of its pledges. Yet it is evident, doubt and want of confidence exist.

The press of the State and the press of the North have contributed much to the promotion of this state of things. A portion of our own press has excited and kept up the doubt of the North as to the loyalty of our people, and a portion of the Northern press by its bitterness and unfriendly character, excites doubt in the South as to the sincerity of the North in regard to the Union. The continuance of this ill feeling and crimination, either between the two sections or among ourselves, is unwise, unnecessary and damaging.

If the Union is perpetuated, which the South now really desires, it should be a real and not a pretended one—a union of equals upon the basis of the constitution—such a union as would be desirable to both parties and mutual in its benefits. If we are to be denied such a union—if we cannot be so soldered together as that the past shall be forgotten, and all can know no North, no South, no East, no West, but "the Union one and inseparable," the attempt to force it otherwise will be one in name and in name only. The disposition therefore, on the part of any one North or South, to keep up the bickerings of the past, by attempting to force all men to come to a particular standard of political faith and opinion, or to be disfranchised, indicates most conclusively the hollow-heartedness of those who talk about a Union or the restoration of the States to their former condition.

The Librarian.

We noticed with some surprise the proposition a day or two ago before the Senate, to combine the offices of Public Librarian and Superintendent of the Capitol, and observed that it passed its second reading with but little opposition. Its reference to the committee on the Library was proper, and we hope the committee will show an enlightened judgment, in rejecting the proposition. The Librarian should by all means be a gentleman of reading and some literary taste, and the office has generally been acceptable to gentlemen of this character, not for the small pay but for the literary advantages the position afforded. The office of Superintendent of the Capitol has been generally filled by aged, careful and attentive persons, who had some tact in keeping it in order. The two offices are incompatible, and the latter would hardly be filled by any one fully competent to fulfil the duties of the former. Gentlemen visiting the city as well as citizens, visit the Library for information, and the Librarian should certainly possess a sufficient knowledge of books to give the information desired. Better dispense with the Library altogether, than to commit its management to incompetent and illiterate persons.

"Thalia."

It is known that the author of sundry Articles which have graced the columns of the press, over the above signature, is our accomplished town-woman, Mrs. Col. W. F. Clark.—She is under the impression that we sometime since stated, that she was connected with the Field and Fireside of this city, as a contributor, both editorially and otherwise. She now requests us to say, that her connection with that publication has terminated.

ROBBERY.—We learn that the store of Mr. J. B. Franklin on Wilmington Street, was entered by a thief on Tuesday night, and robbed of about $200 worth of goods. If there is not a check put to this soon, we shall have a constant recurrence of it in this city.

Gov. Worth to be Sworn in.

By a joint vote of both Houses, Gov. Worth will take the oaths of office in the House of Commons on Friday 12 o'clock, M.

[Correspondence of the Baltimore Sun.]

WASHINGTON, December 10.—To-morrow, if there is a quorum of members present, the House standing committees will be named. It is said that Thaddeus Stevens is chairman of the Ways and Means; Mr. Morrill of Vermont, chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, and General Butler, chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations. There is a great and just indignation over Stevens' appointment, and a pressure may change it.

The republicans, it is said, do not intend to quarrel with the President, but that they will take their own time about admitting the Southern members, except those from Tennessee.—They will yield on this point, it is represented, out of deference to the executive, and especially for the reason that his son-in-law is one of the Senators.

Members of Congress are already overwhelmed with letters and personal applications from persons who wish to be nominated to the War Department for positions in the army, under the recent order for the filling of vacancies in the regular service by an equal apportionment among the States—one first or one second lieutenant from each Congressional district.

[Special Despatch to the Baltimore Sun.]

Anxious Condition of the Republicans.

Letting Down towards the President's Platform—The Committees.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—The Republicans are in a very anxious condition. Men of conservative and radical views are seen much in conference, and the result, doubtless, will be a letting down gradually from the Colfax-Stevens-Sumner platform towards that of the President. In no other way can the Republican party be kept together. I believe Horace Greeley and Col. Forney both are working to this end.

Stevens is pushed hard by the radicals for the chairmanship of the leading House committee, and the speaker may yield. Mr Kasson is antagonizing Mr. Raymond for the chairmanship of the Foreign Affairs committee.

Washington Items.

The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun of yesterday writes:

It is said that Thaddeus Stevens is chairman of the Committee on ways and means; Mr Morrill, of Vermont, chairman of the committee on appropriations, and General Butler, chairman of the committee on foreign relations. There is a great and just indignation over Steven's appointment, and a pressure may change it.

The republicans, it is said, do not intend to quarrel with the President, but that they will take their own time about admitting the Southern members, except those from Tennessee. Minister to Mexico--Radical Resolutions in the Senate.

A special Washington despath to the New York News, says:

General Logan had an interview to-day with the President and Secretary of State. He expressed his desire to go to Mexico if he could be assurred that our policy toward Mexico would be changed, but declared his unwillingness to go unless the Government intended to extend some substantial aid to the Liberals. The President informed him that he could not give him such assurance. Mr Seward added that our policy of neutrality toward Mexico would, for the present, remain unchanged. Whereupon General Logan definitely refused the Mexican Mission. The matter was discussed in the Cabinet meeting today, and it was determined not to appoint any one else in the place of Gen. Logan.

Notwithstanding the belligerent tone of the Message towards England, there is no expectation of war with that power.

Thaddeus Stevens's resolutions will meet with decided opposition in the Senate. It is understood that Reverdy Johnson and Senator Doolittle will make strong arguments against it. The most strenuous efforts will be made to amend it, and faint hopes begin to be entertained that it may not pass the Senate without amendments. There is no prospect, however, that any of the Southern members will be admitted this session, except those from Tennessee and Arkansas, and possibly those from Virginia.

Shooting Affair.

A very unfortunate affair took place at the Edgecombe House in this place, a few nights ago which came very near resulting in the death of one of the parties.

An altercation took place between Mr. Wm. A. Bassett and Mr. Samuel Chesson both of this place which resulted in the former shooting the latter, the ball passing through the arm and entering the body, but fortunately, it did not enter the cavity. Mr. Chesson is now up and doing well.

It was a fortunate thing for both parties that Mr. Chesson had a small book in his side pocket through which the ball passed, and retarded its force. Mr. Bassett is now under bond for his appearance at the next term of our Court.—Tarboro Southerner.

Caution.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Whatever truth there may be in the recently published rumors respecting the President's contemplated action with regard to the Southern States, it is well known here that he acts on all cases affecting restoration as they arise, and thus, whilst engaged in that work, he is the best exponent of his own policy, none being authorized to declare what course he will pursue in the future.

NORTH CAROLINA LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.

WEDNESDAY, Dec. 13th, 1865.

Mr. Jones of Columbus introduced the following resolution which was ordered to be printed and referred to the committee on Railroads.

Resolved, That the Public Treasurer be and he is hereby authorized to sell all of the stocks or interests owned by the State of North Carolina, in any and every corporation. Provided however, That said sales shall not be made at a price less than the par value of said stocks or interests.

Mr. Whitford introduced a resolution asking that the committee on Railroads be authorized to send for persons and papers and to administer oaths, which was adopted.

Mr. Covington introduced a resolution, which was adopted, instructing the Judiciary committee to take into consideration the formation of a law, having for its object the protection and care of debtors, and prevent their property from sacrifice, and at the same time to give protection to creditors.

On motion of Mr. Cowper a message was sent to the House to go into an election for three Councillors of State.

The House concurred and the Senate voted with the following results:

W A Wright received 21, C J Cowles 20, W. W Lenoir 17, R L Patterson 16. D M Baxter 15, H A Bizzell 14, E J Hale Sr 5, D F Caldwell 4, W J Yates 4, R P Dick 3, Wm Murphy 3, and J A Drake 2.

Mr. Ferebee from the military committee said he desired again as chairman of the committee on Military Affairs, to make a statement in order to quiet the anxiety manifested here, and among the people of the State at large. He appreciates the importance of immediate and prompt action to meet any emergency that may arise during the Christmas holidays. He would state to the Senate that in obedience to its order, he had applied to the General commanding the Department of North Carolina, for arms and ammunition to be placed in the hands of the home police and the militia recently organized, as auxiliary to the same. No written answer has yet been received, but he had reason to expect one to-day.

He would take this occasion to say that so far as his energy and efforts can avail, they would not be remitted to obtain arms and ammunition for the protection of our lives and property, and to preserve the peace and quiet of the people.

The Senate concurred in the message of the House appointing Friday next at 12 o'clock M to receive the Governor elect in the hall of the House of Commons and administer to him the oaths of office.

The memorial to his Excellency, the President of the United States, adopted on yesterday by the House, was referred to the committee on Federal Relations, and ordered to be printed.

Mr. Howard introduced a resolution relating to mortgages and deeds of trusts, instructing the Judiciary Committee to report whether any modification of the law in relation thereto is needed at this time.

Mr. Covington introduced a bill which was referred to the Judiciary Committee, to authorize the Wardens of the poor of each county to seize and sell the property of paupers, who are admitted to the poor house of their respective counties.

The House transmitted the following resolution and asked the concurrence of the Senate, viz:

Resolved, That in the event of any contract having been entered into by any Railroad Company in this State, with any person or company, whereby preferences, or exclusive rights of transportation, either in priority or arrangements, is given to such person or company, the Attorney General of the State is hereby instructed to institute proceedings against such Railroad Company for a forfeiture of its charter.

Which being read, Mr. Ferebee moved the rules be suspended, and the resolution put upon its passage.

Pending the passage of the resolution, a message was received from the House proposing to go into an election for two Councillors of State.

The Senate concurred, and proceeded to vote. Mr. Wright received 22; Cowles, 26, Parrott 19; Baxter, 14; scattering, 8.

The Speaker announced the special order, viz: the report and resolution of the Judiciary Committee, touching the constitutional amendment abolishing slavery.

Mr. McLean advocated the passage of the resolution, and on motion of Mr. Bynum, its further consideration was postponed until to-morrow at 12 o'clock.

Mr. McLean introduced (by permission) a memorial from certain citizens of Cumberland county in regard to the distillation of grain, which on his motion was referred to the committee on Propositions and Grievances.

The question recurring upon the motion of Mr. Ferebee to suspend the rules in order to put the resolution from the House in relation to monopolies of transportation upon the Railroads.

The question was put, and the rules were suspended, and the resolution being read a second time, Mr. Jones of Wake moved to refer to committee on Judiciary.

Messrs. Wilson and Arendell, while opposed to monopolies, thought the resolution of sufficient importance to require a reference.

Messrs. Hall and Howard opposed.

The Senate refused to refer, and the question recurring, the resolution passed the second and third readings and ordered to be enrolled.

Mr Hall introduced the following resolution, viz:

Resolved, That a select committee of three be appointed, whose duty it shall be to prepare and report a bill to the next meeting of this General Assembly, best calculated to promote and encourage emigration to this State, to prevent fraud and imposition on the emigrant; to ensure the performance of contracts between the contractor and such emigrant; and all such other matters as may be connected with the subject.

Mr. Hall advocated the adoption of the resolution. He referred to the tide of emigration to the Northwest, an emigration that had placed us in our present condition. While we have been asleep the Northwest has been making giant strides.

If we wish for the stream of emigration to flow to our shores it can be effected, for no country can compete with the Southern States in this respect. We can pay such prices for labor as will break down competition. The Northwest cannot pay one third what we are able to do. He had been astonished at the statements made to him by those cognizant with the subject. Not one emigrant in five hundred comes to this country with any definite purpose or any means, but they are taken in charge by agents of societies. Virginia, South Carolina and Georgia, had already successfully competed with the agents of the Northern States. In the course of twelve months a very large number of emigrants, with proper protection and aid could be brought to our State.

The resolution was adopted.

Mr. McLean introduced the following resolution which was adopted.

Resolved, That the Judiciary committee be instructed to consider whether any legislation is necessary to relieve wards of their present distress by permitting such disposition of their property as will insure due provision for them, and report by bill or otherwise.

A message was received from the House stating that they had passed the bill to abolish the office of Auditor, but had amended the Senate bill, so as to give the Comptroller $1500, and allowing him no clerk. The Senate agreed to the first, but disagreed to the second.

A bill to extend the time for registering deeds and other conveyances, passed its several readings.

A resolution authorizing the Secretary of State to send Convention documents to the County court clerks, passed its several readings.

A bill to carry into effect an ordinance of the Convention, in regard to the election of clerks and sheriffs, passed its third reading and ordered to be engrossed.

A resolution in favor of S. G. Ward, passed its second reading, and on motion of Mr Keener the rules were suspended and the bill passed its third reading.

Mr Latham introduced a bill to modify an ordinance to organize a temporary force for the preservation of law and order (allows companies to elect their officers) which under a suspension of the rules passed its several readings and were ordered to be engrossed.

An engrossed bill to incorporate Stokesburg Lodge, No 920, A. Y. M., passed its third reading and ordered to be enrolled.

Mr. Arendell moved to adjourn until 11 o'clock, to-morrow, which, on motion of Mr. Wiggins, was amended to 10 o'clock.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

WEDNESDAY, Dec. 14th, 1865.

The House was called to order at 10 o'clock, A. M.

Prayer by the Rev. Albert Smedes, DD., of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

The Journal of yesterday was read and approved.

Mr. McAden, from the committee on the Judiciary, reported back a bill for the relief of citizens of Alexander county, who may suffer from the burning of the Court House and Records of said county, recommending its passage.

Mr Jenkins of Warren, from the joint committee on Railroads submitted the following report:

"The Joint Committee on Railroads to which was referred a resolution of inquiry as to certain contracts which had been or were about to be entered into between certain Railroads in this State, and Adams & Company's Express Company, whereby exclusive privileges and preferences were to be granted to said Express Company, have had the same under consideration and beg leave to submit the following report: Your committee anxious to ascertain all the facts concerning said contracts, as well as other matters of public interest in connection with the Railroads of the State, gave notice to the respective Presidents and Superintendents of the several Roads in the State, to meet them in the City of Raleigh on Tuesday evening, the 12th inst., but your committee regrets to say that but two of the Presidents were present, thus thwarting the object of the committee. It is but due to say that some of them were prevented from attendance by sickness or other unavoidable cause. Your committee are therefore unable to say with certainty, what are the precise terms of the contracts alluded to, but from the evidence before the committee, they are of opinion that certain contracts have been entered upon, or are about to be, between certain Railroads in this State, and Adams & Company's, or as it is sometimes styled the Southern Express Company, whereby the said Express Company is to have exclusive privileges and preferments in the transportation of all Express freight over said roads; thus creating a monopoly. Your committee entertaining the opinion that all such contracts are not only injurious to the public interest, but a gross violation of the charters of said Roads; would respectfully recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That in the event of any contract having been entered into by any Railroad Company in this State, with any person or company, whereby preferences or exclusive rights of transportation, either in priority or arrangement is given to such person or company, the Attorney General of the State is hereby instructed to institute proceedings immediately against said Railroad Company for a forfeiture of its charter.

On motion of Mr. Jenkins of Warren, the rules were suspended, and he urged at some length the adoption of the resolution. In the course of his remarks, Mr. J. stated that there was evidence before the committee that the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad Company in consideration of a loan of $200,000, had entered into a contract giving the Adams Express Company the exclusive right of transporting Express freight on their road—reducing their tariff on freight 50 per cent in their favor. A similar proposition had been made to the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad Company and refused.

Mr. Faircloth of Wayne said that no such contract had been sanctioned by the directory of the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad.

The question recurring, the resolution was adopted.

A message was received from the Senate transmitting for concurrence, a report from the joint committee appointed to confer with the board engaged in preparing a code of laws for the government of Freedmen, pursuant to a resolution of the State Convention.

The Committee in view of the early day fixed for adjournment, and the importance and complexity of the subjects involved, recommend, with the concurrence of the commission preparing the code, a postponement of all action in the premises, until the ensuing session. The House concurred in the report.

The House concurred in a message from the Senate, proposing to elect three Council ors of State.

The names of Messrs. James T. Leach, E. J. Hale, Sr., W. J. T. Miller, J. B Hargrave, C. L. Harris, A. Dockery, and L. Eldridge were withdrawn from nomination and the House proceeded to vote.

Mr. Holderby introduced a resolution requesting the Provisional Governor to convene the Convention on the first Monday in February, 1866. Lost.

Mr. Bryson, a resolution instructing enquiries by the Judiciary Committee as to the expediency of passing a law giving the right of redemption to persons whose lands are sold at Sheriff's sales for debt in the same manner as those sold for taxes; also, as to the propriety of enacting a law to prohibit the sale of lands for debt at Sheriff's sale, unless they bring two thirds of their assessed value. Adopted.

A message was received from the Senate, transmitting a resolution authorizing the joint committee on Railroads, to administer oaths and to send for persons and papers. The House concurred.

A message was received from the Senate transmitting the following engrossed bills, viz: a bill to amend Section 3rd, chapter 86, Revised Code; a bill to provide for holding courts in the county of Washington; and a bill to amend the charter of the Little River Turnpike Company.

The two first of these passed their several readings, the last took its place on calendar.

Mr Caldwell introduced a bill to authorize the establishment of courts of arbitration in each county of the State. Referred to the Judiciary committee.

Mr. Webb, a bill to incorporate Eno Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons in the county of Orange. Passed its several readings under a suspension of the rules.

Mr. Smith of Hartford, a resolution that the unfinished business of the present session be continued over the recess, to be disposed of in order at the adjourned session. Adopted.

Mr. Smith of Cumberland, a bill to legalize and confirm certain proceedings of the county court of Cumberland county. Referred to the Judiciary committee.

Mr. Hutchison from the Committee that superintended the election of Councillors of State, reported whole number of votes cast 153. Necessary to a choice 77. Mr. Lenoir received 82 votes. No other election.

On motion of Mr. Jenkins of Warren, a message was sent to the Senate proposing to elect forthwith the two remaining Councillors of State.

The Senate by message announced concurrence, the name of Dr. Jos. A. Drake and Mr. R. L. Patterson were withdrawn, and the House proceeded to vote.

The joint committee subsequently reported: Whole number of votes cast 150. Necessary to a choice 76. Mr. Wright received 84 votes, Mr. Cowles 78—elected.

Mr. Lucas, introduced a resolution instructing an inquiry by the Finance Committee, as to the expediency of selling State property acquired since May 20th, 1865. Adopted.

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

"A bill to extend the time for the requisition grants, deeds and conveyances," passed 2nd and 3rd readings.

The engrossed bill to repeal an act entitled "an act to establish the office of Auditor of Public Accounts, and for other purposes," was put on its 2nd reading.

The bill was amended on motion of Mr. Dalby, by striking out the 4th section which gives the Comptroller a clerk with a salary of $1200—The bill was further amended on motion of Mr. Dalby, by striking out the the words "two thousand dollars" in the section and substituting "fifteen hundred dollars" as the salary of the Comptroller.

On this question the yeas and nays were ordered and the House voted as follows:

YEAS—Messrs. Allison, Ashworth, Blair, Blythe, Bryson, Burgess, Burton, Candler, Carson, Craige, Crawford, Dalby, Davis of Carteret, Davis of Halifax, Dickey, Everett, Farr, Gaines, Garland, Gidney, Hamilton, Harrison, Hednett, Holderby, Holmes, Horton, Houston, Jenkins of Warren, Jones, Judkins, Kinney, Logan, Lyon, McAden, McDonald, McEachen, McGuire, McIntosh, Melson, Moore of Alamance, Moore of Chatham, Nicks, Page, Palmer, Paschall, Potter, Rosebro, Smith of Guilford, Scoggin, Teague, Trull, Waugh, Wheeler, Wilson and York—55.

A message from the Senate announced its concurrence in the amendment of House to the bill to repeal the act establishing the office of Auditor of Public Accounts, which reduced the proposed salary of the Comptroller from $2000 to $1500; also its rejection of the amendment striking out the 4th section which provides that the Comptroller shall have a clerk with a salary of $1200 per annum.

Mr Hoke moved that the House recede from this amendment.

On motion of Mr. Murphy, it was ordered that a message be sent to the Senate proposing the appointment of a committee of conference.

The House then adjourned until 10 o'clock to-morrow.

Negroes in the Galleries.

The Washington correspondence of the New York News, writing under the date of the 8th says:

A new feature is exhibited at this session. This is the appearance in the galleries of both houses of large numbers of negroes and negresses, and the airs they put on is a caution. They push themselves into the ladies galleries and thrust themselves into the front seats, and there they sit for hours. No decent people will sit on the seats behind them nor near them, and thus there is always a wide vacant space between them and the white people. The negroes clap their hands and grin and chatter like monkeys whenever any of their friends on the floor make any allusion to the American citizens of African descent. I have seen dozens of ladies come to the doors of the gallery, look in astonished at the sight that met their gaze, and then turn away and leave the Capitol sooner than be contaminated by sitting in the same gallery with the negroes, and behind them too. Negro equality is advancing here with rapid strides.

Gen. Pillow's New Suit.

General Curtis when he occupied Helena, in 1862, captured twenty-three hundred bales of cotton belonging to General Pillow, then of the Confederate service. These were confiscated, and, as was supposed, turned over to the officers of the United States Treasury. Since General Pillow obtained his pardon, however, it has been ascertained that the government has never received any benefit from this cotton operation, and it is inferred that General Curtis knows something of the manner of its disposal. General Pillow has instituted proceedings against General Curtis for the missing cotton, or its equivalent in currency.

GERMAN LABOR.—The first instalment of German laborers for the valley of Virginia, arrived in Alexandria on Saturday. The Gazette, says:

They have been engaged by Col John Fairfax, of Loudoun, who intends thoroughly to test this (to our people) new species of labor. It is said his example will soon be followed by many of the farmers in the Piedmont District. In the lower counties, where the new system has been introduced, it is said that the result is satisfactory, and Messrs. Wilmer and Washington, the agents here for German Emigrants, are receiving frequent orders from the upper and lower counties, and as the freedmen have become unreliable, it is not improbable that white labor will entirely supplant the negro in this section of Virginia.

The President's Course Plainly Marked Out.

Whatever Congress may do, President Johnson has but one course to pursue to restore harmony to the country and to preserve the principles of our government, and that is the one he started upon. We have a better opinion of a majority of the conservative men, both in the Senate and House, than to think they will follow the lead of the Jacobins who jumped up, cracked their whip so triumphantly the first day of the session. We cannot believe that they will betray their constituencies and the best interests of the country in such a manner. They know how universally the President's restoration policy was and is approved. The people everywhere endorse it. During the Congressional elections, no one dared to raise his voice against it, except a few crazy or cynical radicals, and they only in murmurs. Nearly all were elected as avowed supporters of the President and his policy—a policy that was well understood, and which looks to the earliest restoration of the Southern States to their normal condition in the Union. To follow Stevens, Sumner, and the few other Jacobins now in opposition to this policy, to spurn and kick away the platform by which they reached their seats, would be on the part of members an act of unparalleled treachery toward the people. We cannot believe that the majority would be guilty of such a fraud, or that, for mistaken political or party ends, they wish to keep the country in an unsettled and agitated state. There are evident indications that the conservative portion are dissatisfied with their own conduct, and the position they were spurred into the first hours of the session. It is to be hoped, therefore, that they will speedily cut loose from those cynical, fanatical and revolutionary disorganizers who endeavor to drive them into opposition to the President.

Should we be disappointed, however, and Congress adopt the prescriptive programme laid down by Stevens in the House and Sumner in the Senate, Mr. Johnson ought not to change his purpose or alter his course. It is very desirable that the executive and legislative branches of the government should act in harmony, and particularly at the present time, when such important questions require attention and co operation. God knows we have had strife enough—sectional strife far too much—and the country prays for repose, for oblivion of the past as far as possible, and for an era of better feeling. To bring this about it asks for concert of action between Congress and the Executive to heal the wounds of civil war; and it expects the happiest results from the broad, liberal and conciliatory policy of the President. Harmony, then, is most desirable between the different branches of the government. But not harmony in a mischievous and destructive course—not harmony in violating promisses to the country and cheating it in the expectations that have been raised. Better opposition than this. Some of our radical cotemporaries begin to speak of harmony. The Tribune even urges it. Since the President's Message appeared and some of the conservative republicans in Congress have evinced a disposition to oppose the disorganizing measures introduced by the ultra leaders on Monday, the politic radical press speaks of harmony. It appears to be alarmed at the effect the presumption and extreme measures its friends have produced. It seems to smell the trouble that is not far off. The meaning of all this is that they will drive the President, if they can, into their destructive measures, and if they cannot they will endeavor to cajole him. Harmony means with them using the President to the utmost they can to carry out their views if they should not be able to force him. Mr. Johnson is remarkable for certain qualities upon which it might be well for these radicals to reflect. We will just mention them for the benefit of those gentlemen. Every one who knows his history is aware that he is an astute politician. We believe he never failed in any political contest he ever undertook. His whole career and the developments of his character through a long public life show him to be a remarkably firm man. His honesty is proverbial. Such a man is not likely to be removed from his purpose or defeated. The ground he has taken for the restoration of the Southern States was thoroughly examined. He proceeded upon broad, statesmanlike views and sound principles. With the constitution as his guide, he says the rebel States never have been out of the Union, and could not be, whatever individuals in those States may have declared or done. Then, looking at the principles and feelings that govern human nature, and at the history of other countries which have had civil wars, he sees that the most effectual remedy for the wounds that have been made, and to restore fraternal relations, is by a magnanimous policy. We are a homogeneous people, and we should soon become firmly united in feeling and interests, notwithstanding the intensity of the war, if both sections rejoice in the same rights and privileges. This is the foundation of his policy towards the South. It is that of a statesman. He ought not to swerve from it, and we think he will not.

In opposing his restoration policy Congress would be acting in opposition to the sentiment of the country, and contrary to what most of the members professed during the elections. We hope there will be a sufficient number of members to neutralize the least, radical measures—But should this not be the case, he has an immense power in the veto, in the patronage of the government and in his legitimate executive functions over the South. He can bring the States of that section to the point where they may exercise all the local functions which the State of New York or any other State may exercise, and leave them there. Should the houses of Congress refuse to admit members, that question would be decided by the people at the next Congressional elections, and there can be no doubt as to how it would be settled. The great majority of the people are with the President now, and they would be with him overwhelmingly in such a contest. Let him, then, firmly adhere to his policy and pursue the even tenor of his way. The radical demonstration in Congress may do some good, after all. The Southern people ought to see from this the necessity of promptly conforming with all the conditions the President requires of them. Let them strengthen his hands and leave no sound argument for the radicals to use against their restoration. If they do this the generous and conservative Northern people will be with them, and all will end well.—New York Herald.

THE TEST OATH IN THE FEDERAL COURTS.—We understand that the constitutionality of the act of Congress prescribing the above named oath is now before the Supreme Court, on application of A. H. Garland, Esq., of Arkansas, to be admitted to practice without taking the oath. The National Intelligencer, in speaking of the matter says:

Mr. Garland was an attorney of the court before the war, and has received a pardon from the President for his acts during the rebellion. The whole question will be presented on this application, which, we learn, has been set for argument next Friday the 16th inst. It is understood its application will be argued by Mr. Garland himself, Reverdy Johnson of Maryland, and Matt. H. Carpenter, of Wisconsin, on the one side, and by the Attorney General, Mr. Speed, on the other. The case involves questions of great importance, and we are glad it is now before the Supreme Court. They will be ably argued doubtless, and until their adjudication we refrain from comment.

Provisional Governor Parsons has received a dispatch from Secretary Seward congratulating him in the name of the President, on the acceptance by Alabama of the constitutional amendment, which completes the requisite number of States required to make the amendment the organic law of the land.

Union or Disunion.

The President, in his message, has asserted that the ratification by the Southern States of the Constitutional amendment abolishing slavery will remove every obstacle to their resumption of their natural relations with the Federal Government.—He says: "The adoption of the amendment reunites us beyond all power of disruption." Although we cannot understand why the acquiescence of any State in a modification of the Federal Constitution should be made a condition of its enjoyment of a republican form of government, and although it is evident that the founders of our political system did not intend to tolerate compulsory State legislation, still we believe that the South is willing to abide by the President's decision. The question is, will Mr. Johnson abide by it? The condition accepted and fulfilled, will he use his executive authority to enforce the fulfillment of his part of the covenant? for, as an official emanation from the Executive pen, it implies the existence of a covenant. He has said: "The amendment to the Constitution being adopted, it would remain for the States, whose powers have been so long in abeyance, to resume their places in the two branches of the National Legislature, and thereby complete the work of restoration." Now, the adoption of the amendment has been virtually accomplished; it requires only the declaration of Congress to that effect to be formally consummated. The Southern States have performed their part in bringing about that consummation, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana, Arkansas, Tennessee, Missouri and Maryland have adopted the Constitutional amendment. They have done so with a promptitude not surpassed by the action of any equal number of the Northern States. It is not for the Federal Government to take into consideration to their disadvantage that they have done so under duress and coercion the wrong and the responsibility attach to the Federal Government. The fact exists that nine of the Southern States have fulfilled the condition exacted by the Executive, and it now remains for the President to make good his declaration that "amendment to the Constitution being adopted," the Southern States shall "resume their places in the two branches of the National Legislature."

Important Legal Discussion.

A very important case is now pending before the Supreme Court of the United States, involving the question—"Does the President's pardon remit the sentence of forfeiture of rebel property, and reinstate the rebel in all his rights thereto?" This was a motion of Le Roy M. Wiley, defendant in error and appellee, to dismiss the writ of error and appeal of the United States, on the ground that the President's pardon and the acceptance and compliance with the terms thereof by the defendant discharged and remitted the forfeiture, for which sentance of condemnation was pronounced in the District Court, by pardoning the acts by which alone, if at all, that forfeiture was incurred.

The cause originated in an information filed in the District Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York, by the District Attorney thereof, and one Charles Gould, named as informer, under the acts of Congress of 1861 and 1862, commonly known as the confiscation acts, for the confiscation and forfeiture of seventeen hundred and fifty six shares of the capital stock of the Great Western Railroad Company of 1859, and of upwards of $50,000 due on coupons of bonds of the same corporation, as the property of the defendant, on the twofold ground alleged in the information—first, of alleged use of property by Mr. Wiley in aid of the rebellion, under the acts of 1861; and second of alleged treasonable acts of Mr. Wiley under the act of 1862.

The argument in the cause was commenced before the Supreme Court on Friday. The decision of the Court will be awaited with much interest by the large class in the South, whom it will affect.

Important, If True.

It is said that Gov. Johnson of Georgia, has orders not to issue certificates of election to the new Congressmen from that State. Also that Gov. Jenkins will not be permitted to qualify. The Legislature just assembled are much depressed about it.

IMPORTANT COMMUNICATION.

For the Times, and all Times, to be Considered

The first stone in the structure of life insurance was laid by the hand of the Almighty when he planted in the human heart the generous impulses of love and affection, which prompt us to provide for our own; but the keystone is the law of average to secure which we bind ourselves together to bear each other's burdens, the stronger and richer, as the longer lives must be, helping the weaker and poorer brother that is cut down in early life, and by the universal law of compensation it gives us either the blessings of a long life, or the pleasing assurance of leaving a competency to our loved ones, as the films of death are curtaining them from our sight forever.

Times like the present make most manifest the peculiar benefit of life insurance. Business is interrupted. Men are anxious for the future. Thousands have families growing up around them whose property depends upon the continuance of the father's life. Should he die, the income would cease; the children must be withdrawn from school; the mother and elder children must resort to every expedient to sustain the family; and, in many cases, with the utmost exertion, this can not be done: the wife will return to her father for support, and the children, separated, must go the older to seek work, and the younger be distributed among friends. Such reverses befall men the least expecting them. While business is active, and prosperity gives exhilaration and hope, men can hardly be made to feel that they are within a hand's breadth of better reverse, and that their families may be scattered in a month, by the death of the father. But hard times lead men to think of these things.

Now if a man has insured a sum of one, five or ten thousand dollars upon his life, this anxiety is removed. While he lives, he can support his family. If he dies, ample provision is made for them.

It is every man's duty to provide for his family. That provision must include its future contingent condition. That provision, so far as it is material, men ordinarily seek to secure by their own accumulations and investments. But all these are uncertain. The man rich to-day, is, from causes beyond his reach, poor to-morrow. A war in China, a revolution in Europe, a rebellion in America, overrule ten thousand fortunes in every commercial community. But, in life insurance there are no risks or contingencies. Other investments may fail. A house may burn down. Banks may break. Bonds and mortgages may be seized for debt, and all property may fall into the bottomless gulf of bankruptcy. But money secured to your family by life insurance, will go to them without fail or interruption, provided you have selected a sound and honorable insurance company. Of two courses, one of which may leave your family destitute, and the other of which assures them a comfortable support at your decease, can there be a doubt which is to be chosen?"

The benefits of life insurance are not confined to a provision for families, but are as numerous as the various circumstances of individuals. It enables a person to make a provision for a wife, a parent, a child, a friend or domestic, depending on him, and he lives secure, that while his industry is providing for their support, his savings are effectually guarding them against want in the event of his death, thus doing his whole duty toward them instead of only one half of it.

It enables a person to raise money on loans where real security can not be offered, to provide for the prompt payment of his debts in the case of his death, and to secure the eventual payment of doubtful debts.

By it a charitable individual may donate a legacy to some beneficent institution; or a congregation a support to their minister's family in case of his death.

It provides means to reimburse the sum expended in the purchase of any life estate, on the death of the person during whose life it is held; to remove incumbrances, payable on events connected with the termination of life; and secures the return of money paid for education, for capital embarked in business, or other advances made for children or others in the event of their premature death; and, generally, it affords a certain indemnity against any pecuniary loss whatsoever, to which one individual may become subject, by reason of the death of another.

It is a subject, then, which concerns the poor as well as the rich, the man living on his income, the mechanic the farmer, the professional man, the merchant—in short all classes of the community.

Surely, such an institution deserves the countenance, the consideration and support of all reflecting men, and is doubly recommended, when it is considered how very small a sacrifice of some personal gratification will secure, by its means, the independence and happiness of a family.

1609 CHESTNUT ST.
PHILADELPHIA.
ASTOR PLACE, NEW YORK. 19 GREEN ST. BOSTON.
ADDRESS THE INVENTOR,
B. FRANK. PALMER, LL.D. PRES'T A. A. LIMB C°.

These inventions stand approved as the "best" by the most eminent Scientific and Surgical Societies of the world, the inventor having been honored with the award of FIFTY GOLD AND SILVER MEDALS (or "First Prizes") including the Great Medals of the World's Exhibition in London and New York; also the most Honorary Report of the great Society of Surgeons of Paris, giving his Patents place above the ENGLISH AND FRENCH.

Dr. Palmer gives personal attention to the business of his profession, aided by men of the best qualifications and greatest experience. He is specially commissioned by the Government and has the patronage of the prominent Officers of the Army and Navy. Six Major Generals and more than a thousand less distinguished officers and soldiers have worn the PALMER LIMBS on active duty, while still greater numbers of eminent civilians are, by their aid, filling important positions, and effectually conceal their misfortune.

Advice and Pamphlets Gratis.

To avoid the imposition of Piratical Copyists, apply only to DR. PALMER, as above directed, or to his Agent,

NEW GOODS.

New Line Opened! Makes Two Trips in the Old Line's One!

A. GRENCH HAS JUST RETURNED BACK from the North, where he has bought his second supply of together with Hats, Cloaks, Long Shawls, Scotch Shawls, Ladies and Misses' Goods, Ladies' and Misses' Hoop Skirts, Ladies and Misses' Balm or Shoe, Gent's Boots and Shoes, Boys, Youths and Children's Boots and Shoes, Felt Hats, the Derby (a Hatter, the Planter's wide brim, and other styles for Men's wear. Boys, Youths and Children's Hats. Wood and Willow Ware, Crockery and Glass Ware, and a superior lot of Family Groceries.

Take my stock altogether, I have one among the largest and most desirable and complete stocks of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods in the City.

Now, allow me to say that I bought my Goods to sell, and they must and shall be sold; but I don't expect to take a piece of poetry in one hand and a full grown humbug in the other and climb up to the clouds and fish out the birds of Paradise and gently bring them down with a placard stuck on their tails "Selling out at Cost! selling out at cost!" No, I deal in no such humbug. I keep no such a class of Goods. I keep no time worn, shelf rubbed, defaced or dusty Goods—dust so thick you can rub it off with a knife. My Goods are all new, and of good styles, and I intend to sell them as low as anybody that bought goods with the expectation of paying for them, and the man that sold the goods to the man that refuse them is a rascal. Now this is plain talk, but 'tis no slip of the tongue. I mean what I say, and say what I mean. I have traded here and sold goods here for twenty years. I expect to remain here, pay my taxes to support institutions of the City, County and the State. I expect to continue to do so. I respectfully ask my old customers, my old friends and new ones to call and examine my stock. I will deal with you honest and treat you right. If I don't sell you goods as cheap as you can buy the same class of goods elsewhere I don't expect you to buy. I am at the R. Smith building, house formerly occupied by Creech & Litchford, Merchants and Auctioneers.

A. GRENCH.

GREAT BARGAINS

IN CLOTHS AND FANCY DRY GOODS.

THE SUBSCRIBER RESPECTFULLY ANnounces to his friends and patrons, and to the Members of the Legislature, and to strangers visiting the City, that he continues to carry on the

at his old stand, where he will be happy to see them and sell them great bargains in his line. He would also call the attention of those of the Military Department wishing to purchase clothing, uniforms or citizens' dress, to the fact that they will find great bargains. In style and taste they cannot be surpassed by any in this city or any other. He deems it unnecessary to say any thing of his own skill in the Tailoring business, but it will suffice to say that his experience has not been for a few years only, but for the last 15 years. He therefore solicits a liberal patronage. Prompt attention will be given to persons wishing to have cutting done. Orders from a distance will be thankfully received and promptly attended to. Call at store No. 15 Fayetteville Street, Raleigh, N. C.

MRS. FENTRESS has opened a Boarding House next door, about 150 yards from the Capitol, where she will entertain members of the Legislature or transient Boarders.
